Rose Catalogue

Roses are renowned for beautiful flowers and foliage, both in the garden and as cut flowers. They are easily grown, needing a sunny or lightly shaded, airy position in any well drained soil.

PREPARATION OF SOIL:

Dig a hole twice the size of the roots to enable enough room to carefully spread the roots if required without cramping. Cultivate the soil at the bottom of the hole. Mulching is beneficial.

PLANTING:

Step one. Plant the rose to the old soil mark on the stem.

Step two. Fill the hole with Diacks Rose Planting Mix. Firm it around the roots and water thoroughly, then soak in water again

Step three. Trichopel is beneficial for conditioning and preventing root disease.

Step four. For Standard roses, drive stake in firmly on the prevailing wind side. The stake should reach the top of the stem in the head to which bud is grafted.

Step five. Secure with plant ties. A common mistake with tying roses & trees is they are often tied too firm and over the growing season, the tie grows into the trunk causing a massive lack of sap flow as well as weakening the trunk where it is liable to snap off in future years.

GENERAL CARE:

Keep plants moist (well watered in drier weather) but do not wet the foliage excessively. This can encourage disease. Do not allow roses to dry out, particularly in the first year. Remove dead blooms during the season to encourage further flowering.

PRUNING ESTABLISHED ROSES:

Prune in July/August, after the hardest frost have gone.

PRUNING NEW ROSES:

Hard pruning is necessary. Leave branches at least 150mm (6in) long at the top of the stem.

FEEDING:

Roses are gross feeders. Feed in early spring and summer with GroSouth Super bloom rose food to maintain healthy foliage and growth. Diacks Organic compost can be used as a mulch to build up humus in the soil that acts not only as a weed suppressant, but also adds health and vigour. A healthy plant is less likely to pick up any pests and diseases.

DEFINITIONS:

FL = Florabunda, HT = Hybrid Tea, CL = Climber, STD = 800mm standard, D/A = David Austen, SH = Shrub, * = Fragrant, SM450 = 450mm standard miniature, REP = Repeat flowering, WSM = Weeping standard miniature, C/S = Cottage shrub, RUG = Rugosa, RAM = Rambler, OF = Old fashioned.

SERVICES:

Diacks Nurseries Ltd also can offer you a full planting, pruning, spraying, feeding, staking and tying service through summer and winter.
